Preview: Carole Feuerman at KM Fine Arts

by Nastia Voynovskaya Posted on March 28, 2013

Tonight, KM Fine Arts in Chicago will open a solo show from sculptor Carole Feuerman. Known for her painted resin and bronze sculptures of swimmers, Feuerman uses her penchant for replicating the human body to create works of art that range from hyper-realist to surreal. Isolating specific body parts for individual works, Feuerman turns hands perched on bicycle seats or hands holding a balloon into objects for contemplation. Take a look at our preview of the show below and check out the exhibition at KM Fine Arts March 28 – June 28.
